

A photograph of a modern kitchen with stone walls, a wooden island, and a tiled floor. The kitchen features a central island with a wooden base and a countertop with a built-in cooktop. The walls are made of rough-hewn stone, and the floor is covered in large, irregularly shaped stone tiles. The lighting is warm and focused on the island.

STONE BUSINESS

august 05

thin veneer

commercial maintenance

The Magazine For Stone Professionals

Dan Dureiko

Dureiko Construction Inc.
Cleveland Heights, Ohio

To house a couple's large wine collection, the design transformed an basement utility-meter room with an octagon-tray ceiling. All areas feature granite countertops, along with a jade-green marble chair rail and mosaic stone for accent; slate covers the floor. And, behind some nice cabinetry, are the gas and water meters.

Peter Salerno, CMKBD

Peter Salerno Inc.
Wyckoff, N.J.

The flooring for this master-suite/bathroom is Durango tumbled marble, with a diamond-shaped mosaic centered in front of the platform tub to tie together the vanity colors, wallpaper and window treatments; the mosaic continues into the shower area and below the elliptical window. The vanity tops and the tub deck are in Crema Marfil.

Alan Freysinger

Design Group Three Inc.
Glendale, Wis.

To create a kitchen/living center in a 1921 Craftsman bungalow, walls came out to open the area; it also involved rerouting utilities and load-bearing points. The countertops are India Green granite, along with a backsplash from Wiseman Spaulding Design. Matthew Krier co-designed the project. ●